

NICHOLAS SCHOOL OF THE
ENVIRONMENT AND EARTH SCIENCES
DUKE UNIVERSITY MARINE LAB

Spring 2008 Graduate Schedule

Duke Marine Laboratory, Beaufort, NC

Block <sup>1</sup>	Courses
A 1/9 - 2/8	Marine Invertebrate Zoology	Marine Conservation Biology HAWAII<sup>2</sup>	Marine Tourism	Fundamentals of Management <sup>3</sup>
B 2/11 - 3/7	Physiology of Marine Animals	Fisheries Ecology	International Conservation and Development
Break 3/7 - 3/16	SPRING BREAK
C 3/17 - 4/9	Urban Tropical Ecology SINGAPORE<sup>2</sup>	From Molecules to Management: Application of Molecular Tools to Marine Conservation	Marine Fisheries Policy	MP Block - CEMs<sup>4</sup>
D 4/10 - 5/3	Biology & Conservation of Sea Turtles TRINIDAD<sup>2</sup>	Coastal Ecotoxicology & Pollution	Coastal Watershed Science & Policy

<sup>1</sup>Students choose one course for each block

<sup>2</sup>Field trip required, travel costs not covered in tuition

<sup>3</sup>Students may take Fundamentals of Management in conjunction with any other class in Block A

<sup>4</sup>Block C is an ideal time for CEM students to focus on completion of their Masters Project